Windsor-Detroit Bridge Authority Wins Prestigious Award

Windsor-Detroit Bridge Authority (WDBA) continues to be recognized for their work on one of the premier public-private partnership projects in the world – the Gordie Howe International Bridge project. The Canadian Crown corporation was honoured with the Environmental, Social and Governance Performance of the Year award at a virtual ceremony hosted by P3 Bulletin.

A new category for 2020, the Environmental, Social and Governance Performance award recognizes an organization's policies and their benefits for stakeholders, operators, users, and the wider community. The Gordie Howe International Bridge project includes a comprehensive environmental program that addresses over 450 conditions identified in the bi-national environmental assessment process. It also includes a Community Benefits Plan that creates opportunities to enhance economic, social and environmental conditions. Both plans were developed as a result of hundreds of consultation meetings with Michigan and Ontario residents, Indigenous Peoples, business owners as well as community and municipal leaders.

The P3 Awards recognize and reward the best in Public-Private Partnerships (P3) throughout the Americas. Entries in 18 categories are judged by a panel comprised of more than 80 industry professionals representing both the private and public sectors.

Gordie Howe International Bridge Project Visual Art Opportunity

Providing a welcoming experience for travellers using the Gordie Howe International Bridge is a priority for the project's design team. This includes ensuring structures and buildings are visually appealing, unique and memorable. An artist has been selected to provide an artistic design to the exterior panels of the Energy Complex building at the Canadian Port of Entry.

This artistic commission is part of a larger effort to incorporate Public Art and other forms of cultural and historical recognition into the project, based on continued community engagement.

The public is invited to join us virtually to meet the artist and learn more about the artistic concept for the Energy Complex. Comments will be collected for the artist's consideration with their concept development from March 9-16, 2021.
