Good afternoon,

Here are a few things we wanted you to know about:

Indigenous Artist Selected to Create Public Art Commission

The Gordie Howe International Bridge project team is pleased to announce the selection of Michael Belmore, celebrated Anishinaabe artist, as the successful candidate for the Indigenous art commission to be installed at the Canadian Port of Entry.

Mr. Belmore will create a 2.7-metre/nine-foot free-standing sculpture that recognizes and celebrates the history, traditions and culture of Indigenous Peoples in Canada. The centrally located artwork will be visible to travellers as they enter and exit Canada. The concept, still under development will be shared at a later date, with installation anticipated before the end of 2023.

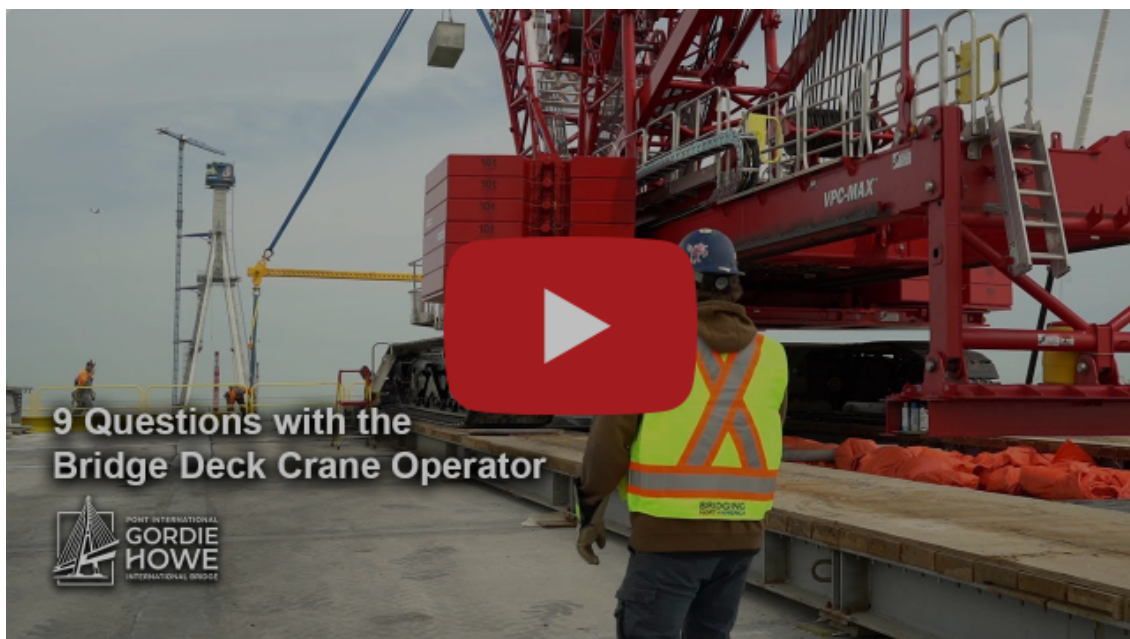

The Gordie Howe International Bridge project is located on the traditional lands of the Three Fires Confederacy, consisting of the Ojibwa, Odawa and Pottawatomi nations. Mr. Belmore met with representatives from Caldwell First Nation and Walpole Island First Nation to hear from them how the artwork can reflect images symbolic of local Indigenous peoples.
